We strive for new goals

The 1981-82 school year began with hopes of making it an exciting, interesting year. In order to accomplish this, many of us studied, practiced and listened. We joined in events that made the school year exciting.

But in doing all of this, we also reached our peak of striving for goals, to clear the path that the future held and will hold for us.

As we excelled in these activities we also accomplished another very important goal in our school life that we all shared, which was and still is promoting our Bulldog Pride.

Our present is our future

Socorro students have many different interests. Some like sports; others are into more intellectual things. Interests develop into a future, what we will become and do with our lives. One may lead into an athletic life in sports; others become engineers, doctors, politicians, teachers and housewives. Whatever we become, we make the society of tomorrow in our own special way.

In a way, school has an effect on our way of life. It takes encouragement from students, teachers, coaches and even principals to help us in whatever we are doing. Socorro has a very caring faculty and student body; caring in the way of encouraging any student's goals. Whoever we are, student or faculty member, we compose everything that Socorro stands for. Together we will make Socorro known. Together, no matter who we are or what we believe in, we stand for the Socorro Bulldogs.

Old El Paso celebrates 400 years

Four Centuries ago in 1536, El Paso del Norte, or the Pass to the North, was founded by a Spaniard named Alvar Nunez Cabeza de Vaca. El Paso was so named because of a natural pass in the mountains. In 1632 the first settlement was established at the Pass to the North. El Paso was incorporated as a city in 1873. El Paso's population increased rapidly from 300 in 1853 to our present 425,259.

Since 1873 El Paso has grown into a large and beautiful city. Each year El Paso spreads further around the base of the Franklin Mountains, one of El Paso's most attractive features. The Franklins stand out as a purplish monument against our red and golden Southwestern sunsets. Our city will continue its amazing growth, spreading ever further throughout the remainder of the Greater Southwest.

Proud Bulldogs add spice

For the 1981-82 yearbook dedication, the El Chato staff wanted to honor someone who had contributed time and effort to school activities and functions. It was a very difficult decision, since almost everyone at SHS contributes to some activity. The staff finally came up with a name we felt met our standards. We proudly dedicate this yearbook to the entire student body of Socorro High School.

We gladly dedicate this yearbook to those students who compete for, represent, and help Socorro High be what it is today. We thank those of you who helped spread the word of a grand high school, along with the extension of the Bulldog Pride throughout El Paso.

Socorro High School would have no clubs, no organizations, no activities if it weren't for student participation. There were quite a variety of organizations offered, including some which were new, like Choir and VICA.

Some students were competitive and enjoyed going to other schools to represent Socorro in various areas. Others busied themselves helping people and joined such groups as Key Club and Spanish Club. Still other students were involved in athletics or took up their role just being students.

Each of us may very well have had different tastes and attitudes toward school functions, but all of us, joined together, form the student body of Socorro High.

Bulldogs achieve and excel

Socorro expands in many ways

As our school expands, many other things also expand: pride, joy, spirit, satisfaction, goals, will power, the happiness of being a Bulldog.

Through these things we grow and live with a certain feeling inside which makes us who we are and what we strive for: the pride and joy of our school, the spirit we give to our teams, the satisfaction we get when we win, the goals we aim to achieve. The will power we have to achieve what we want and the happiness we have while doing it.

We are Bulldogs and proud of it. No matter where or when, we will show our pride with pleasure. Whether we win or lose, we'll keep on fighting to the end. And at the end we will look back at our years of being a Bulldog and keep the pride within us, storing those memories until we need them.

Throughout the years Socorro has grown in many ways. We have grown in population, activities, district size, sports, U.I.L., and also in spirit. We have more pride than ever in our athletic teams, U.I.L. teams and all students competing with other schools. We are proud of what we are, and of what we are becoming.

Activities

Homecoming enlightens pride

Homecoming is an event that appeals to and attracts everyone; a week filled with activities. It took much effort to make the week become a very successful one.

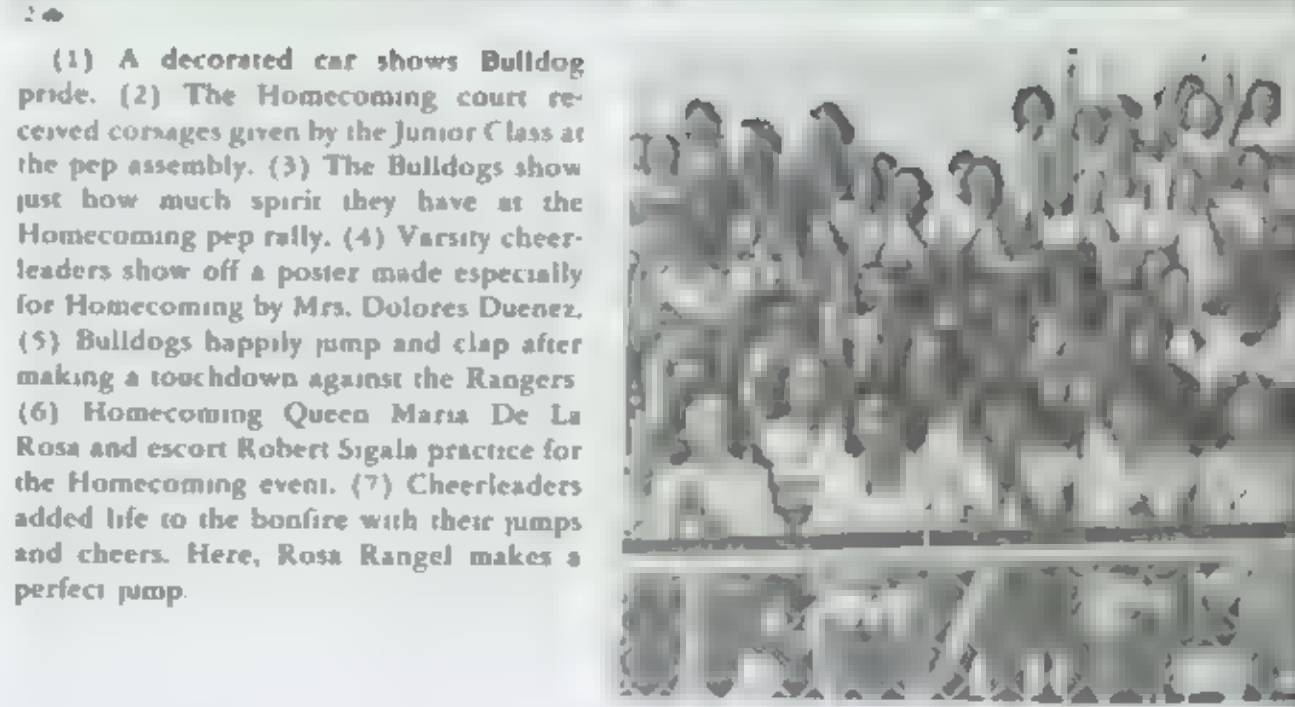

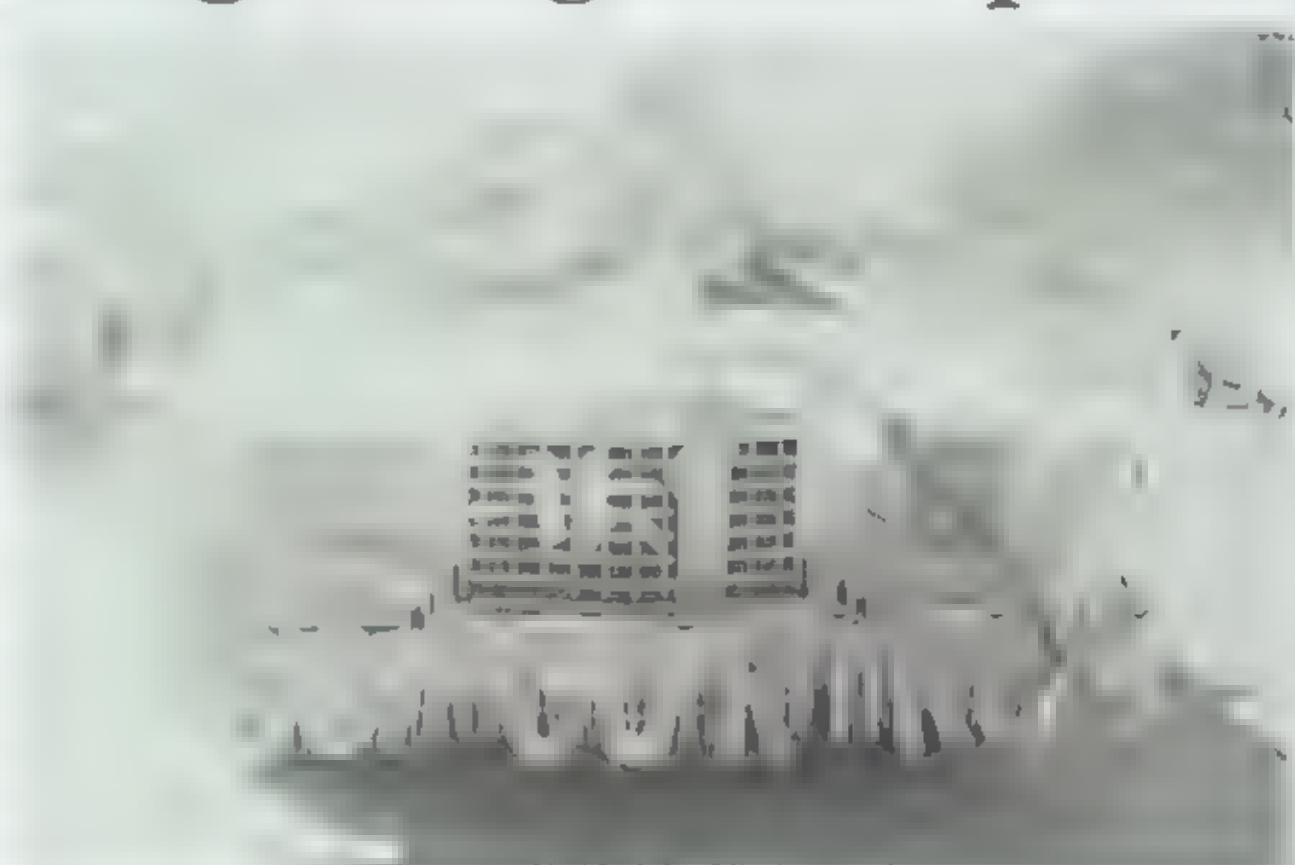

The Juniors started off the Homecoming activities by celebrating "Junior Week." They sponsored special days and decorated the halls and lockers. Most important was the planning and organization of the dance and the selection of Godfather's Disco to play.

Our traditional bonfire was lit Wednesday night. Everyone gathered around and cheered as Bulldog spirit rose. The band and cheerleaders added life to the bonfire.

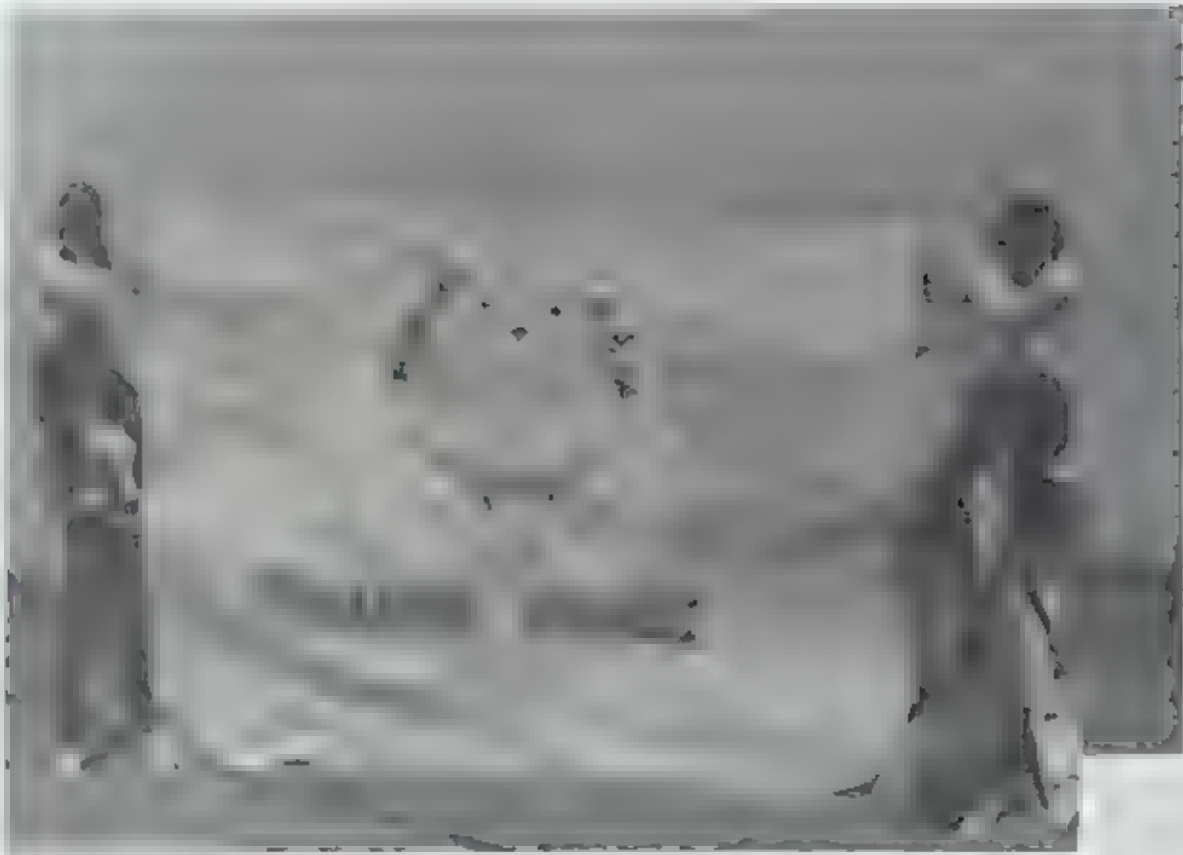

Friday morning was filled with tension and excitement, for Homecoming day had finally arrived. Students exchanged corsages and garters, and decorated their cars, showing that their pride and spirit was high. Afterwards, during lunch, crowds gathered around the decorated cars as judges examined them.

In the afternoon the student body gathered in the bleachers to participate in the most-spirited pep rally of the year. The Homecoming Court was given corsages presented by Junior Class Vice President Rosemary Perez and Junior Darlene Calderon. The varsity football team, coaches and exes were also given recognition at the pep assembly. Special guests included jocks from radio station KSET.

The varsity football team gave us their best as they tackled the Riverside Rangers. The audience cheered and shouted for the Bulldogs throughout the home game. Even though we lost our Homecoming game, we still had that spunk that took us from the beginning to the end of the game. The dance, held at Trejo's hall, lifted up Bulldog spirits after the tiresome game.

We contemplate our new goals

We began the 1981-82 school year with as many activities as we could think of: the Blood Drive, Stock Show, Veteran's Day Parade, skits for pep rallies, registration, sporting activities, and many more activities. With all these activities, faculty and students prepared for the upcoming months. This gave us enthusiasm, inspiration, and hope to accomplish our goals. During the year we all gave part of our pride to make these things happen.

(1) Sabino Martinez proudly shows off his bacon at a livestock show. (2) ROTC marches for the annual Veteran's Day Parade downtown. (3) Ramiro Aguirre helps the cafeteria ladies with Halloween make-up. (4) The Air Force Country Critters performed during lunch. Christmas spirit rings on

With Winter at our doors, we suddenly feel the rising joy of Christmas. This year Christmas brought new and interesting activities. With the yearly visit of Santa Claus came the excitement of coming up with someone who looked like Santa. Not ever succeeding, La Chispa Staff took the leading roles. As part of the play came the decoration of doors, the Christmas concert and a joyful party given by OEA to kids in an El Paso orphanage.

For the second year in a row the El Chato Staff sponsored the Most Beautiful Pageant, with it adding an all-new Most Handsome Pageant. It was held Feb. 10 in the high school gymnasium. Preliminary judging took place Jan. 26 and 27.

Finalists for the Most Handsome Pageant included David Clarke, Danny Fernandez, Kevin Hardts, Robert Hernandez, Carl Link, Robert Rangel, Ralph Richardson and Marty Tatum.

Girls qualifying for the finals were Angie Arellano, Kitty Chavez, Margie Cubberley, Yvonne DeHaro, Marguerite Foix, Jackie Flores, Alice Gonzales, Sandra Grijalva, Cynthia Lyons, Christy Munoz, Irene Munoz, Elsa Osoria, Betty Patino, Ruth Rodriguez, Lupe Rojo, Shannon Tidwell and Sally Zubia.

Contestants first appeared in sports wear. Seven judges scored them in poise, carriage, facial features, physique, hair styles and clothing. Ms. Cleo Bell from Mark V hair design; Mrs. Betty Castle, a professional model; Ms. Susan Farrer, head Goldigger at U.T.I.P.; Mr. Glen Holbrook of Holbrook Photography; Mr. Frank Reyna from the Valley Bank; Mr. Delano Richards from the International Spas and Mr. Jim Zippo and the KINT-98 Super Duck were the judges.

Decorations were created by the members of the journalism classes. All journalism students worked to make this Socorro's best pageant.

Gifts for the winners were donated by World of Flowers, Mark V, Music Land, Casev's California Concept, Disc Records, Capper to's, The Riverside Restaurant, K-Bob's and Mr. Soto's.

Basketball players were honored with a banquet and a combination of a Valentines and Appreciation Dance sponsored by Student Council and the Varsity Cheerleaders. The Basketball Court was recognized at the dance. The King and Queen received basketballs and the Queen also received a bouquet of roses. The Court included King Gilbert Saenz, Queen Liz Castillo and seniors Ruben Lujan, Linda Duran, Fray Candelaria, and Betty Lara. Sophomores Albert Fuentes and Yvette Martinez and freshmen David Myers and Elena Narvaez completed the court.

Spring accentuates moods

As we turned a new leaf in the spring, things grew colorful and our heavy clothing was put away. Spring events began to evolve. Baseball practice began, as well as track. Seniors helped beautify the campus by painting trash cans and restoring the marquee, which had not been used for four years. The annual Power Puff game was held in March, and the football spring game in May. Warm weather set things rolling toward graduation and summer vacation.

(1) The Junior girls practice their plays for the annual powder puff game. (2) Seniors, with the help of sponsor Mr. Lorenzo Nieto, restore the marquee to good condition. (3) Varsity baseball players run their yards for practice. (4) Juniors enjoy the warm southwestern sunshine

Most active seniors

Miss
SHS

Lucina Hernandez

Being chosen Mr. and Miss SHS is without a doubt the highest honor a Socorro senior can receive. Because the students are nominated and elected by the faculty and administration, it is not a popularity contest. Instead, these students were chosen for their dedication to their studies and their contribution to their school and community.

Chosen Miss SHS is Lucina Her-

andez. Not only has she maintained a 3.8 grade point average, she is also ranked number three in her graduating class.

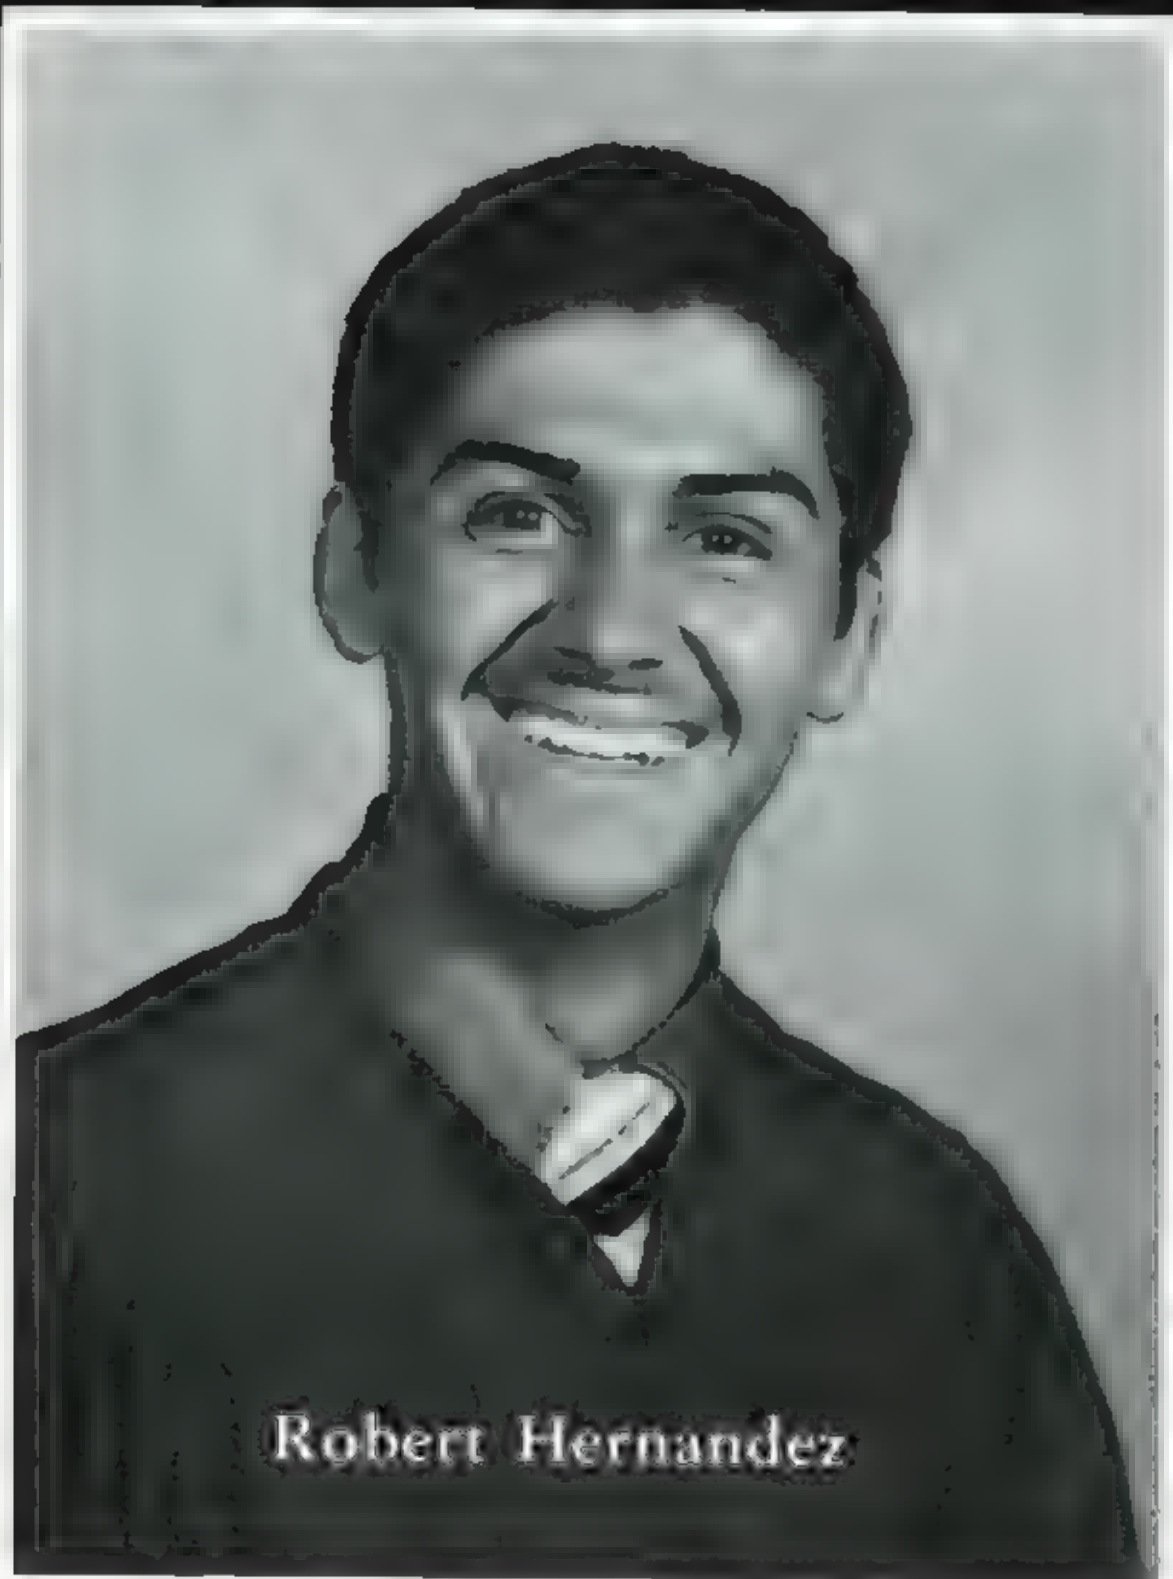

She has also served as an officer of Key Club for two years, participated in the Gifted and Talented Program at Region XIX, and been active in all projects sponsored by the Class of '82.

Robert Hernandez was named Mr. SHS. He has also been active in class projects, serving as president as a junior and treasurer as a sophomore. In NJROTC, he was named Company Commander this year, and served as Operations Officer last year. He has also been Battalion Leader for two years.

This year Robert served as manager for the girls' volleyball teams and was elected Most Popular.

Who's Who?

Recognizing students for their positive achievements in academics, athletics, or service is Who's Who. Who's Who is a national organization which yearly takes student recommendations from over 10,000 high school counselors and youth program sponsors.

Members are chosen among senior and junior students. Only 5% of all high school students are honored each year. One of many advantages of being nominated is the eligibility to receive $1,000 scholarships and other services of educational value for qualified students.

(1) Seniors chosen this year are, standing, Rox Eskew, Guadalupe Aranda, Elida Torres, and Ruben Arrendondo. Seated are Lucinda Hernandez, Marty Tatum and Ruth Rodriguez. Pride keeps Bulldogs fighting

Bulldog Pride is something every Socorro athlete holds in high regard. Pride is what makes them strive for perfection and keep fighting, even though they may not come up on top.

Every member of the team knows what pride means. They won as a team and lost as a team. They supported each other and kept fighting. Much time and dedication went into their workouts, because practice makes perfect. Coach Charlie Arciniega and the staff devoted their time to the team, and gave them hope. Devotion and pride kept the Bulldogs together.

The varsity football team started off an enthusiastic but turbulent season with a 28-0 loss to the Gadsden Panthers. The team's stubborn desire to win brought them their first victory of the season with a 35-20 decision over the Cobre Indians.

The team stuck together and fought hard, but they somehow couldn't keep the momentum going.

As the season wound down, the Bulldogs ended up with a 9-1 season record. Although season statistics were not too impressive, they do not express the will, pride and determination displayed by this varsity team.

High spirits help tough season

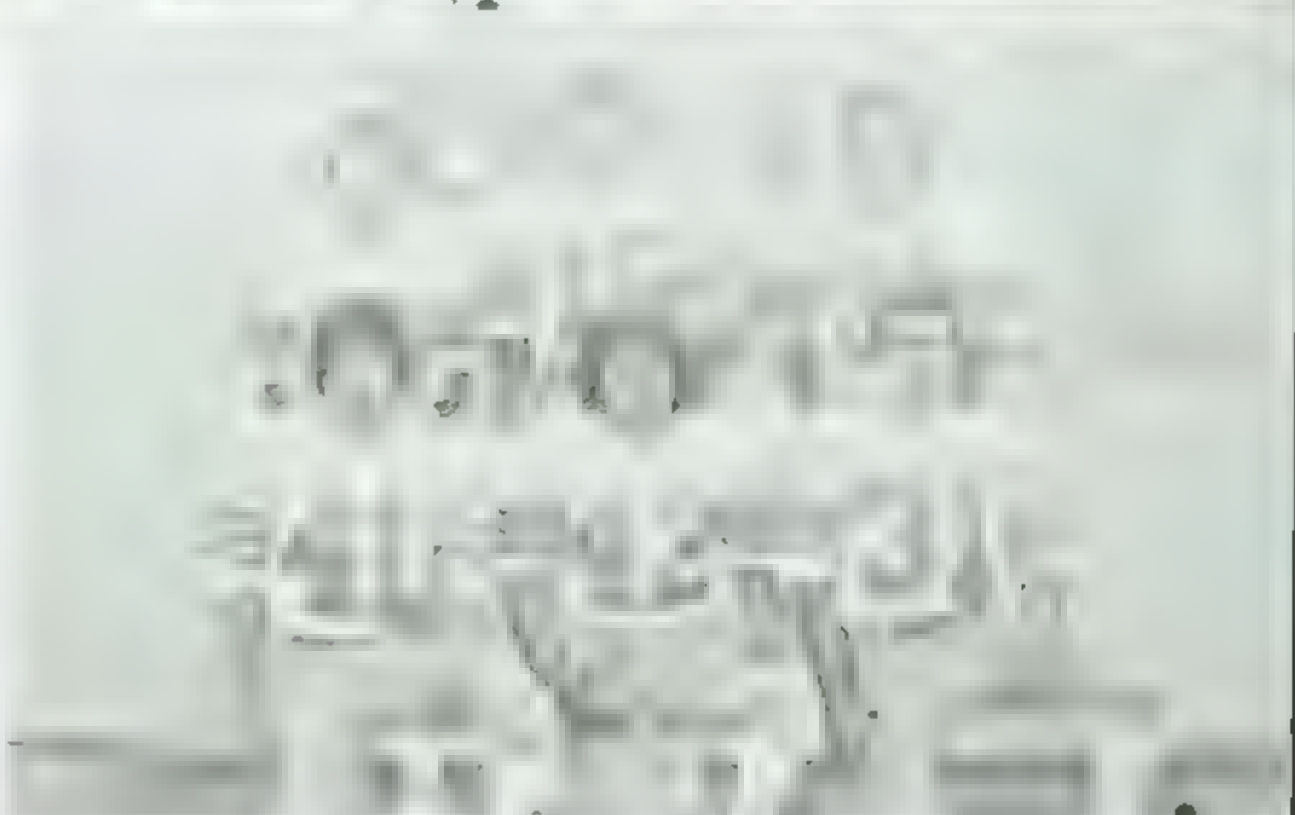

Under the guidance of coaches Robert Hernandez and Eddie Gonzalez, the junior varsity had a rough season, losing 7 games and winning 2.

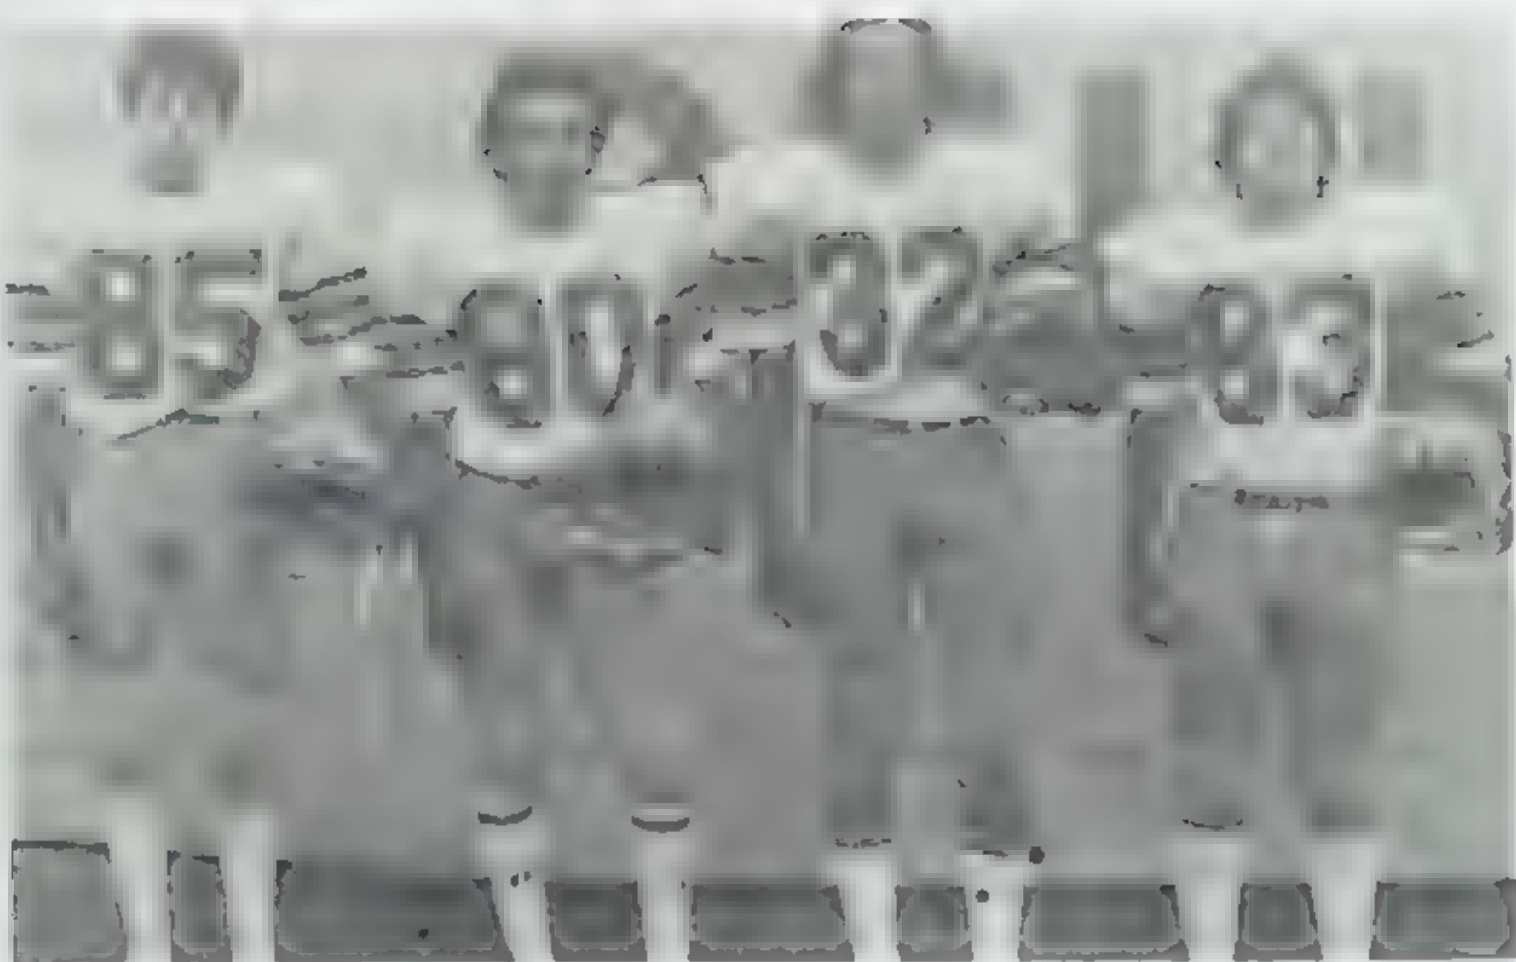

Although they started the season off very well with a 15-0 victory over San Elizario, they couldn't keep up the winning streak. The squad kept their spirits high and kept fighting throughout a tough season.

Mike Carrasco and David Pena put forth fine performances and led their team with pride.

Determination improves team

"I feel the season has been somewhat successful in the respect that the players now believe in themselves and know what it's like to win some games," stated Coach Chris Forbes, after ending an exceptionally good season with a 4-5 overall season record.

The team lost a few games, but squad leaders like Gustavo Marquez, Bobby Lucero, Leonard Montion, Robert Mossman and Juan Chavez kept the team spirit up. That gave them the potential they needed to come back and end the season well.

Squad shows marked improvement

The Varsity Volleyball team obtained a seasonal average of .500. They competed against tough teams such as Riverside, Hanks, Bel Air and Eastwood.

Throughout the season, the outstanding players were Linda Duran, Lisa McAfee and Maribel Garay. They were also returning letterman, and brought a sense of leadership to the group.

Mr. Frank Perez, coach, said the group had improved a great deal since last year. He added that the only problem this season was the tough teams they had to play.

The most exciting games were Hanks, Parkland and Ysleta. To the girls, volleyball is a very competitive sport which includes scraped knees and bruised elbows. During the games, Mr. Perez was not always yelling; he was planning a strategy to help the girls overcome their opponents. Mr. Perez said the best thing about this season was that the girls were playing as a group, and they were playing very enthusiastically. Mr. Perez expects a more exciting season next year.

Spikers have tough season

3 The junior-varsity volleyball season was fairly split with a record of 12 wins and 11 losses. As a new coach, Mr. Jesse Brown had his hands full trying to accustom the girls to his form of coaching.

The team opened the season with a depressing loss to Bowie. Mr. Brown considered third place in the Ysleta tournament a remarkable achievement, since there were ten teams competing. As the team progressed toward the end of the season, the most exciting games were against Coronado and Riverside.

After observing the girls throughout the season, Mr. Brown said he considered Lupe Maldonado, Norma Navarette, Maria Alba and Diane Delage to be the most aggressive and hard-working players. Mr. Brown added that he feels the girls have improved considerably since their last season, and is looking forward to a much more exciting season next year.

Frosh enjoy winning season

Mrs. Gloria Garza joined the faculty this year, and coaching the freshman volleyball team was her first assignment. "I've really enjoyed this because the girls really hustle and put all they've got into the game," she said.

Team captain Elena Narvaez defended the back line, while Lupe Marez and Dolores Lucero handled the spiking chores. Best servers were Sandra Berumen and Maria Jimenez. Susie Orona was not only a top setter, she also managed to keep the team spirit running high.

Terry Granillo was noted for her killer serves, and Virginia Martinez was the team's most improved player. Front players were Sandra Vasquez and Claudia Saldivar.

The team was tied for first place as the season wound down, but a disappointing loss to Ysleta Junior High left the Bulldogs in second place.

J.V. team lacks experience

The Junior Varsity squad, coached by Mr. Jesse Brown, became a reality largely because Mr. Robert Roeder at the junior high worked with the team last year.

For the first year, SHS had a lot of persons try out for tennis. "I would like to see even more try out when we get new facilities," Coach Brown said.

Jesus Gonzalez, Kim Hodgkins, Robert Johnston and Tracy Rutherford were the top players for the team.

1. Varsity improves greatly

A young and inexperienced varsity tennis team came off last year's winless season to offer stiffer competition to their opponents.

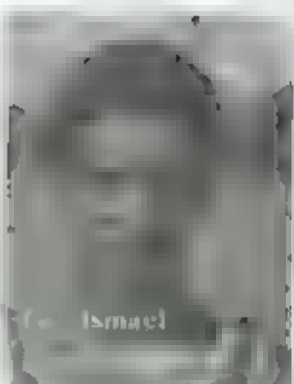

Outstanding players in fall competition were seniors Angie Espinosa and Marty Tatum, and juniors Fernie Carrillo, Brian Ledger, Carl Link and Lucy Moncayo.

To stay close in competition is our main goal. We're going to give our district opponents a run for their money," said Coach Jesse Brown.

Running Bulldogs display pride

Cross-Country boys' season began Sept. 19 and ended at the District 2AAAAA meet Oct. 31 at the Ysleta cutoff.

The team worked hard throughout the season, with endless hours of practice after school. With Mr. Dale Reinhart as their coach, the boys had more enthusiasm. Top runners for the team were Richard Gutierrez and Johnny Hernandez, who did exceptionally well.

The Varsity Cross-Country season began Sept. 19 and lasted until Oct. 31. The team, coached by Mr. Dale Reinhardt, was all sophomores except for Sonia Solano, who was a freshman. The most outstanding runner on the team was Lucy Terrazas.

Although the girls had no experience, they had an exciting season.

X-Country teams show talent

This year was the first for cross country in the girls' division. They competed against tough runners from Bowie, Jefferson, Ysleta and Bel Air. Mr. Dale Reinhardt commented that the girls competed at a very high rank compared to other runners in their district. They have a lot of potential and should do very well in future meets. The outstanding runners were Cruz Perez and Margret Provincio. Through blisters and cramps the girls never gave up.

With hard work, the boys' Cross Country seemed as though they had experienced many seasons of running. They were ranked third in the district meet and Mr. Reinhardt said that he considered it a very high accomplishment. The outstanding runners were David Meyers and David Garcia. Mr. Reinhardt said he thinks next year the pack should do well.

Tough season ruins high hopes

"With such a young, inexperienced team, hopefully we have gained some maturity and dedication that will help us in the future," said Coach Robert Ortega.

The varsity cagers had trouble throughout the season due to inexperience and lack of height. Quickness helped them go up against tough competition like Eastwood and Bel Air in district.

Gilbert Saenz and Ricky Rangel had an exceptionally good year and helped their team vastly throughout the entire season.

Through the beginning of their the season, the Varsity Girls split their games in wins and losses. The Bulldogs hosted a tournament in which they made the finals. They defeated the Bowie Bears 36-17 and the Austin Panthers 45-29. In the championship game they lost to Clint 40-28.

Unity keeps J-V going

I'm very proud of this team. I feel it's been one of the best teams I have ever had in high school. Helping each other and playing as a united team really kept them going at all times, said Coach Frank Perez.

Schools like Jefferson and Las Cruces Mayfield really gave them a tough season.

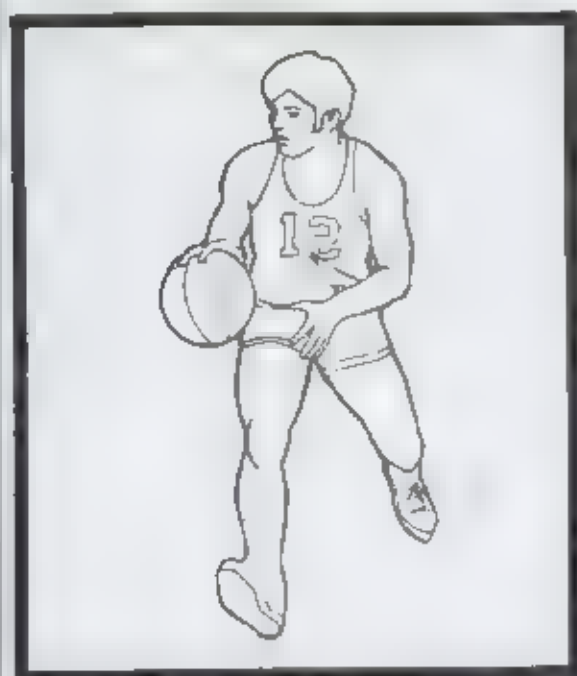

Starters for the J.V. were Louie Cabrera, Frank Castillo, Albert Fuentes, Nelson Lizarazo and Matthew Farley.

High scorers were Albert Fuentes, averaging 13.4 pts. per game, and Louie Cabrera, averaging 11 pts. per game.

Enthusiastic attitude keeps J.V. alive

Under the guidance of first year basketball coach Jesse Brown, the J.V. girls had a good season.

Everything seemed to be going their way at the beginning of the season as they started off with a five-game winning streak. They couldn't keep the momentum going as they entered district competition, but they still managed to over take opponents such as Eastwood and El Paso High.

The team's best traits were a strong defense and enthusiastic minds. This is what kept them alive in the district race.

Freshman boys give their all

The boys' Freshmen basketball team began Dec. 2 against Bel Air. Teams like Hillcrest, Ysleta, Eastwood, and Riverside gave the Bulldogs a rough season. First-year coach Al Mendoza said he hopes that in the coming year the Bulldogs will improve and become even more competitive against larger schools.

Frosh girls look to next year

The freshmen girls' basketball season began Dec. 2 with a tough game against Bel Air. Although the girls had no experience they kept their spirits high and they tried their best to the last minute, according to Coach Gloria Garza. Teams like Bel Air, Hillcrest and Ysleta gave the team a tough season. High scorers who did an excellent job throughout the season are Lupe Marez, Maria Navarro and Sandra Berumen.

Dedication helps players

The Varsity Baseball team started off the 1982 season under the supervision new head coach Leon Antwine, who said, "Our team players have talent and they have dedicated themselves to hard work."

Throughout the season they met up with several challenging teams, but with a lot of hard practice the team found it easier to go up against schools like Bel Air and Eastwood. The team also had an improved baseball homefield on which they won their share of games.

Practice makes J.V. perfect

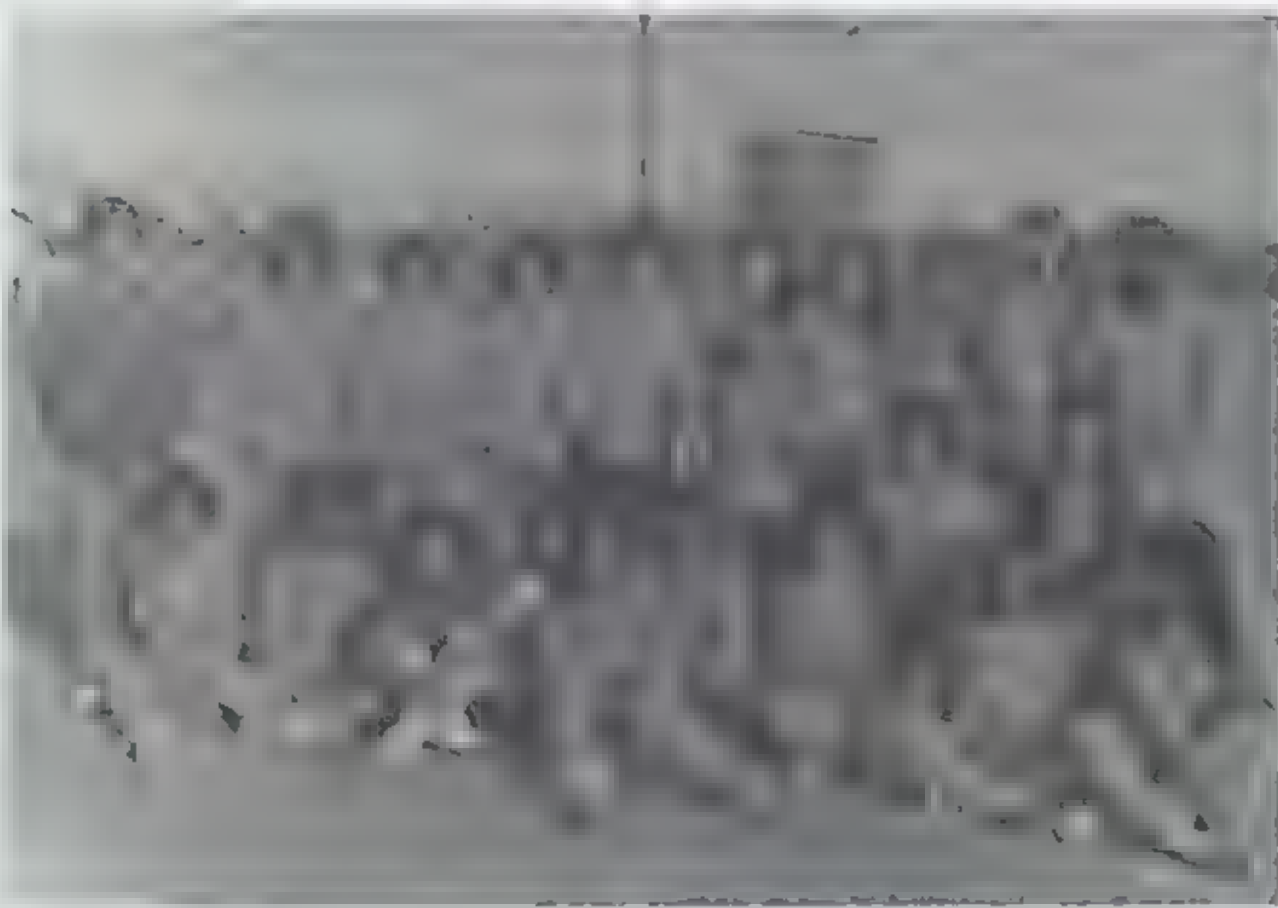

The J.V. baseball team started practicing before the season started. With long hours of practice after school the team accomplished their victories against other schools. According to Coach Chris Forbes, Eastwood and Riverside will be about their only tough competition. The outstanding players on the team were Alex Dominguez, Rudy Ortiz, Richie Armendariz, Leonard Montion and Louie Cabrera.

The track teams started their season Feb. 26 at the Burges meet. Through blisters and cramps, the teams worked out daily to improve their skills. Coach Dale Reinhardt commented that he was pleased with the performances of Tony Morales, Julio Espinoza, Martin Crose and David Herrera and the freshman and J.V. teams should do well in their divisions. In their seasons they will compete against tough runners from Burges, Hanks, Eastwood and Bel Air.

Cheerleaders go straight to the top

The varsity cheerleading squad, sponsored by Mr. and Mrs. Gary Hargrove, attended the National Cheerleader Association (NCA) summer camp and returned with honors. Cindy Lopez was named All-American Cheerleader, the highest award given at this camp, for the second consecutive year. They also brought home an excellence award, an excellence award in finalist competition, a spirit stick, a spirit megaphone, and two superior ribbons.

They devoted their time at games, pep-rallies, and numerous events to build Bulldog spirit and undying pride in S.H.S. They had fund raisers including bake sales, burrito sales, and jackets which helped with many of the cheerleaders expenses.

They also learned new routines and all-in-all they really got down to the spirit of things when they gave confidence to Socorro's athletic teams.

J.V. Cheerleaders build spirit -

Socorro's J.V. cheerleaders were sponsored by Mrs. Martha Biddle. She sponsored a fine and hardworking squad which attended the National Cheerleaders Association (NCA) summer camp. They returned with two excellence ribbons, one superior award, and one outstanding award in finalist competition. Fund raisers such as bake-sales held this year have helped with uniforms and other necessities.

J.V. helped in getting people to yell and participate in athletic activities and most of all to show how much pride we have for our school. They really worked hard learning new routines and cheers to help our spirit build even higher. This team has really contributed time and effort, confidence and patience to be the excellent team they are today. And being excellent, of course, means being a part of Socorro High School.

Cheerleaders are on the move

The Freshmen cheerleaders this year gave everyone in S.H.S. a fascinating first impression performance beginning at Socorro's pep-rallies. Sponsored by Mrs. Susan Hernandez, they brought Bulldog Territory an outstanding ribbon and two excellence awards. Cheerleaders, welcome to Socorro High of 1981-82!

Chess Club makes a move

Determined students convinced Mr. Craig Small to sponsor a new organization on our campus, the Chess Club. They met each Tuesday during the lunch hour to challenge each other and discuss strategy. They also attended tournaments at other schools, displaying their prowess on the game board.

Flag girls inspire spirit

Socorro high school's flag corps consisted of 14 girls, more than half of them sophomores and juniors. It was the first time the squad competed in competition with the band, who received an excellent rating. It may all seem fun and glamorous, but it's not. The girls begin practice before school gets out in the spring, and continue all through the summer.

They held bake sales to help pay for any extra clothing they wished to obtain to add to their uniforms. They also participated with the band in selling items to raise funds for uniforms, trips and any other items that will help improve the band.

The squad is supervised by Mrs. Marlene Maegher, who worked with the girls before and after school during football season to perfect their halftime routines.

The Socorro High School Band is directed by Mr. Jimmy Shelton. He is often assisted by Mr. Greg Siewert in giving the band encouragement and corrections in their music. The band has spent hours before and after school to achieve the sound and distinct marching performances they've had for years. They've also devoted a lot of time to many activities around and in Socorro.

This year the band has two outstanding Drum-Majors who were a great addition to the band. S.H.S. band also had fund raisers throughout the year such as bakesales, concerts, and a big money maker, skating parties.

Council keeps busy

Socorro's Student Council really worked hard on activities, fund-raising projects and school participation days. On this page are captured only a few of the many activities they sponsored.

Socorro's Student Council is no doubt one of the most important and determined clubs in the school. The club consists of representatives of other clubs who bring in news and ideas of future plans. The Student Council is sponsored by Miss Ardell Stegman, Mrs. Kim Murphy, Ms. Dolores Duenez and Miss Rosa Alvarez. They've helped the club along it's way through activities such as participation in the Freshman Orientation, being in charge of Homecoming's halftime, secret pal teacher Appreciation, Project Smile-an Alcohol awareness campaign- having concession stands during a few basketball games, and participation in school pride. They also went to Austin for a convention that lasted three days.

Throughout all the trials, tribulations and deadlines, the El Chato staff met all of its goals. Not only did they add 20 pages, including 4 color pages, they also created a new section to cover, academics.

Editor Letty Padilla, Co-editor Angie Arelleno, and advisor Mrs. Cookie Laffler, with the staff, achieved the new ideas and style that they had worked hard to put into this El Chato.

They held fund raisers such as skating parties and a volleyball game between KELP and KSET. They also had car washes, bake sales, and sponsored the beauty and most handsome pageants. The money these events brought in were used to make this El Chato a yearbook to hold Bulldog pride and to give lasting memories.

The El Chato's thanks go considerably to Lisa Mossman for much of the photography, and to Rick Thomas and Pat Laffler for sports pictures.

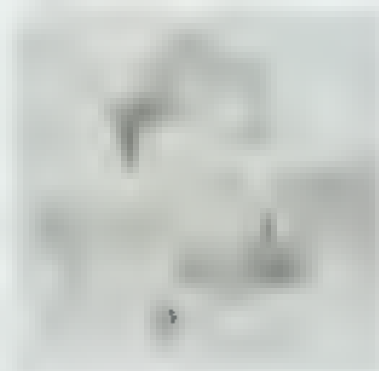

Even though this staff was made up mostly of rookies, they worked hard and brought new and fulfilling ideas. El Chato presents the students of Socorro a yearbook based on memory, pride, class, and a lot of hard work.

La Chispa gave it everything

La Chispa staffers spent long, arduous hours putting together a variety of interesting and informative stories for the paper.

Between selling ads, organizing money-making projects and sponsoring school functions, the members never let their Bulldog pride fall short.

This, plus lots of hard work and dedication, produced one of the best staffs we ever had at Socorro High School.

With the help of Mr. Harold Eades, Mr. Wayne Hoyer, and Mr. Robert Ferrin, FFA went successfully. They were involved in many activities such as the annual Homecoming BBQ and their Christmas party.

In November they had their District leadership contest. They entered the radio team, Chapter Conducting team skills team, and the Quiz team. They had their District Banquet where they announced the results of the contest and the winner of the sweetheart election, Treena Moore. Treena went on to represent the Rocky Mountain district at the area convention.

In February they sponsored Future Farmers week.

Under the direction of a new coach, the Socorro Little Theatre Company reorganized to promote dramatic interests in the school.

During the annual Halloween Carnival, the company sponsored the Haunted House, where crowds seemed to enjoy being scared by ghouls and monsters. Later in the year the thespians performed "Beauty and the Beast" for the elementary schools.

The group also undertook the ambitious project of producing "Everyman" as their entry in UIL competition. Increased participation and enthusiasm from SLTC's membership promoted better performances.

The speech team, coached by Mr. Mario Maldonado, completed a successful year, attending 10 speech tournaments. To be accepted into the speech team, a student had to show a desire to compete in at least one UIL speaking event and successfully participate in at least two tournaments.

The team won trophies and medals in debate, Spanish Reading and Readers Theatre. One goal of the team was to build a strong competitive membership for next year, and develop a junior high speech program. Toward that goal the first Bulldog Invitational Speech tournament was hosted by Socorro High School, with area schools participating.

Club preserves folklore

English teacher Charlie McDonald took over the reins of the folklore class, and with his small group produced another edition of Sombras del Pasado, the folklore magazine.

Johnny Murphy, Fray Candelaria, Herbert Reyes and Tommy Garcia spent many afternoons in the darkroom, learning to process the pictures for the book.

Field trips were taken to a winery and to interview various personalities from the area. Stories were written, typed, and edited by members of the class.

The book was sold in the spring.

Industrial Cooperative Training, taught by Mr. David Simmons, is a new course which trains students for jobs such as auto mechanics, color photography lab technicians, radio and TV repair, and health occupations. It can potentially offer training in about 130 areas.

The 26 juniors and seniors employed through this program attend regular classes half a day and work half a day.

Each student in ICT paid $10 for dues, and to help raise money they also sold stuffed animals.

F.H.A. works hard on projects

Future Homemakers of America is a group whose purpose is to help people in their personal and social life. Mrs. Linda Small sponsors the F.H.A. and succeeds in giving them encouragement. The club held fund raising projects like bake sales and cake walks, visited Sunset Haven for Christmas, at Easter visited small children, and sponsored an F.H.A. banquet at the end of the year.

Every spring, teachers select students for membership in the National Honor Society. To belong to this prestigious society, a student must have earned a 3.5 grade average and be rated as outstanding in the qualities of leadership, character, scholarship and service by his teachers.

The National Honor Society strives to promote scholarship by publishing an Honor Roll twice a year to honor students who have earned all A's and B's. The group also co-sponsors the Book Fair and hosts a banquet for new initiates in the spring.

NJHS seeks excellence

Working in conjunction with the National Junior Honor Society at the junior high, Mrs. Joyce Winters organized a NJHS on the high school campus.

The group spent the year working on fund raisers and coordinating plans for the spring induction with Mr. Joe Avalos at the junior high.

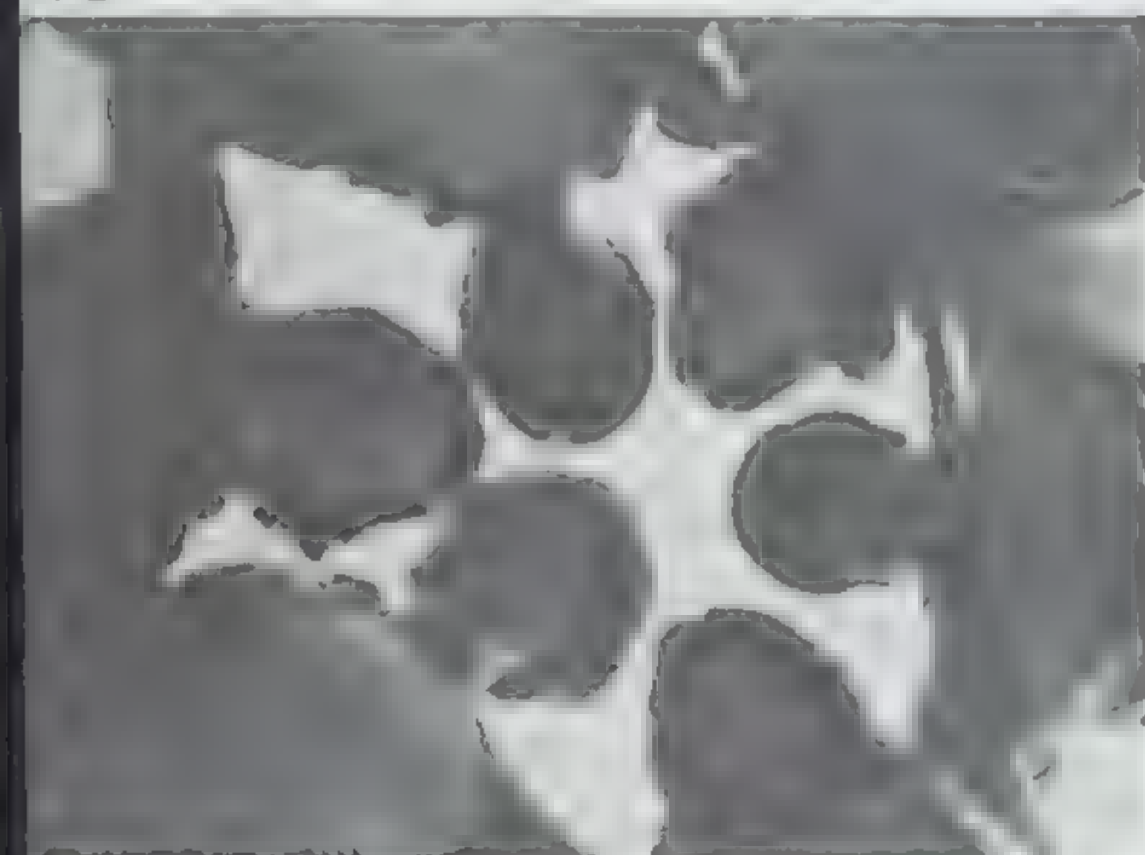

Membership in NJHS is based on scholarship, leadership, character and service. Names of students who meet the academic requirements are submitted to teachers, who rate them on the above qualities. Students must maintain these characteristics to stay in the organization.

(1) N.J.H.S. members are, back row, Selsa Lucero, Olga Barraza, Rachel Orduno, Yvonne Luna, Lucy Vasquez, Lucy Garcia, Eva Reza, Laura Wooley, and Bertha Orduno. Students attend seminars

Students from each classification were nominated by their teachers for membership in the Gifted and Talented program. These students attended monthly seminars at Region XIX, where they were instructed in various listening, leadership, problem solving and citizenship skills by leaders of the community. The group is sponsored by Mrs. Lynda Laird, counselor.

LOOKING BACK . . .

As we look back on OUR HIGH SCHOOL YEARS

Our smiles turn to frowns

and our eyes fill with tears.

We smile 'cuz we're leaving

and we'll be rid of all this

But we frown 'cuz we know that our school we will miss.

It will bring us back memories

of our friends, old and new

And remembering all the

that we used to do.

Memories of the Class of '82

Remembering the dances

Homecoming and Prom

That were thought of by everyone

and cherished by some.

Remembering our teachers and their crummy tests

Ditching our classes

those days were the best.

That all of these memories

that we left behind

Will be cherished by no one but "THE CLASS" in its time.

Math Club tutors students

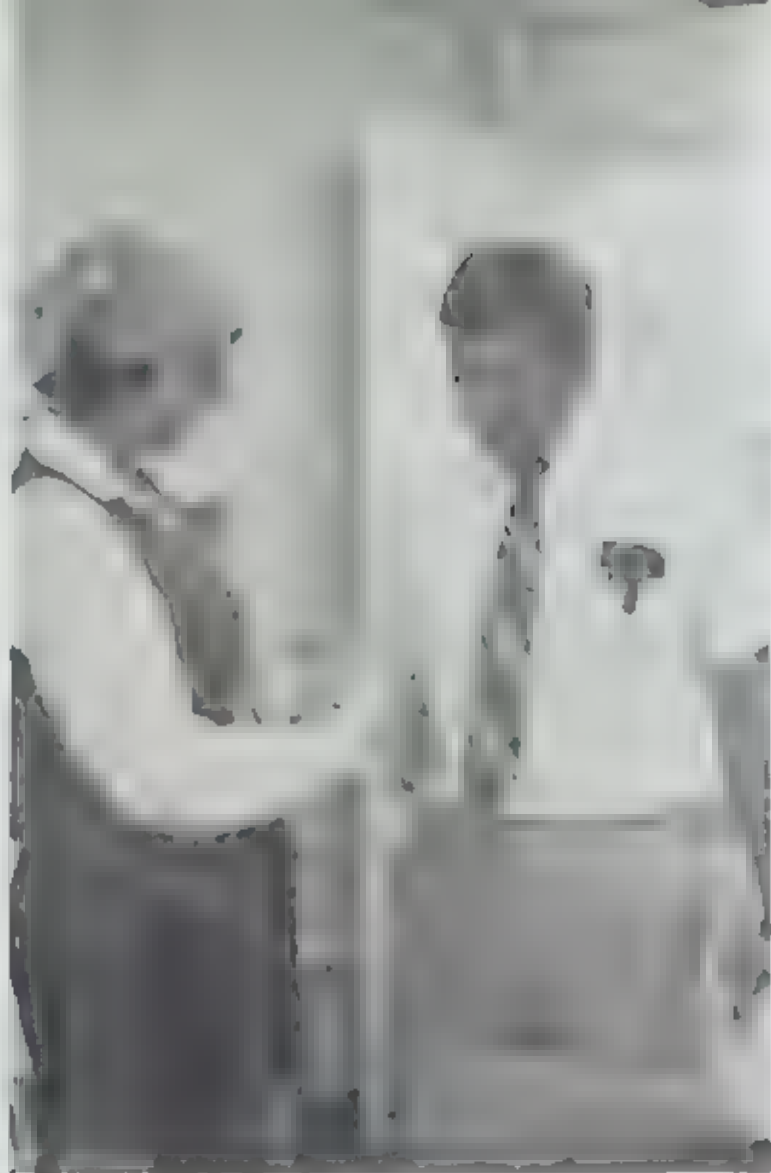

The Math Club consists of students with a "B" average in high school math, good citizenship, and no failing grades in any subjects. The objective of the club is to promote skill and development in high school mathematics.

The club sponsors free tutoring during the school year and places special emphasis on certain areas where a preponderance of weakness is evident among their peers. Principal club officers are, President Marty Tatum, Vice-President Martha Vela, and Secretary Rafael Padilla.

Socorro District

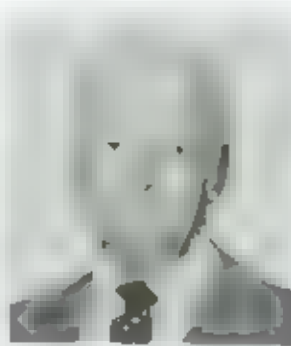

New construction, bond elections and dedication ceremonies occupied a large part of the School Board Agenda.

Escontrias Elementary School was rededicated Nov. 12, and returned to its original name, which has been changed many times over the years. The school was originally named for the family who donated the land for the school, and the Escontrias family was honored at the dedication.

The district also began construction of Campestre Elementary School, located at Socorro and Passmore roads. It will be ready for classes in the 1982-1983 school year. Two other schools will also be built and ready for classes in the 1983-1984 school year, keeping pace with the rapid growth of the district.

Music is the right key

Mr. Jim Shelton

Accomplishing a lot means doing a lot, and the Socorro High School Band does a lot. What it lacks in size it makes up for it with perfection. Many of its' members made All-Region Band, which is quite an accomplishment.

The Band played in many places this year, such as the Socorro Parade, the Veteran's Day Parade, and competed at many concerts. They competed at U.T.E.P. and received a 2 in competition, one step away from being superior. They also performed at the annual Christmas concert and attended a convention in Phoenix, Ariz.

Socorro added another enjoyable class; this is the first year that we've had a choir. Choir is helpful in many ways, providing the development of voices and allowing persons going into a singing field, as a career, a head start.

Even if people aren't going into the singing field, you'll find no matter what, every time you turn around you're humming with the radio. Choir also gives the opportunity to learn about and be a part of music as an art. When one performs, he gets to be the music.

Health and P.E. classes teach us that a healthy person is complete physically, socially and mentally - a person of well being.

P.E. helps the body by allowing the physical structure to develop into a stronger and better body. Exercise activities promote this.

Health helps students comprehend functions of the body such as the circulatory and digestive systems. Health aids in the guiding of good habits and routines to lead a safer and more prosperous life.

The major goal of special education classes is to provide comprehensive educational services for all identified students requiring specialized services resulting from some manner of exceptionality. The identified students are integrated with and provided for through regular school programs. Each identified student has an individualized educational plan formulated to meet his or her particular needs. All programs are operated within the policies and procedures of both general and specialized education.

Language is the words, their pronunciation, the methods of combining them and putting them in such a way that everyone can understand. To develop a student's comprehension and teach the ability to hold on to what they learn is every teacher's personal goal. (1) Sylvia Hernandez and Alice Gonzales do their experiment in chemistry. (2) Eddie Cadena examines an organism. (3) Could Grace Fierro be learning to make an atom bomb? (4) Austin Holliday works his Geometry problems. (5) Mr. Blaize and Ms. Cabezuela substitute for Mr. Gary Hargrove's third period math class.

A young person's desire to understand "why" is never completely satisfied. But through study and practice a person's curiosity can be changed to truth and knowledge.

From solving an algebraic equation to dissecting a bullfrog, we learn more about the world in which we live. From knowing that you have the correct change when you go to the store, to figuring out the probability of drawing to an inside straight, mathematics prepares us for the future.

We attain knowledge through scientific study for the betterment of mankind.

Mr. Gary Hargrove
Mr. Josephus Heavens

Mr. James Poole
Mr. Wes Scarbrough
Mr. Ken Scoggins

Art, drafting develop skills

Art and drafting classes are the fine and applied arts of representation, decoration, and writing or printing on flat surfaces, together with the techniques and crafts associated with them.

Art and drafting offer students a chance to develop their own technique and style, also providing a chance to escape from the everyday menial tasks and chores. Students of Socorro show fine talents through art and drafting classes.

Jerry Lucero works on his craft project.

Somewhere in the Crowd are the People who have the Key to Our Energy Problems

The key is education.

Every available mind must be applied to every available potential. Today, a great many people are searching for ways to conserve the supply of energy we have now and to develop new resources.

Maybe you are one of those people holding the key. Our future depends upon the work that today's students will someday produce . . . upon the capabilities of tomorrow's leaders.

Hard work pay's off

Although yearbook material was new to us, we managed to acquaint ourselves with it and know of its uses. We had our rough and depressing moments trying to arrange and rearrange pictures to perfection. Working on deadlines involved every spare moment we had, lunch, after school and on weekends. We know it was not pleasant either to us or our teachers when we had to miss an hour of valuable class time. It must have also been hard for our principals to cope with our problems with school events such as the Most Beautiful-Most Handsome Pageant, and our DJ Volleyball Game. So we just can't tell you how thankful we are to have people like you at S.H.S.

We hope you like the yearbook produced by us. It contains memories and personalities of school events for 1981-82. Our moments of bitterness, anguish, sadness, joy and triumph, are buried deep in the book from start to end, that we, the staff, can only feel.

(1) The 1981-82 El Chato staff. (2) Photographers are Patsy Campos, Kris Nicholes, Lupe Acosta and Robert Mossman. (3) Co-editors are Angie Arellano and Lerty Padilla. (4) Ads were handled by Rachel Varela and Lisa Golden, and Nora Reyes did honors. (5) Matt Farley, Chris Islas, Yvette Martinez and Martha Alvarado designed sports. (6) The classes were designed by Olga Barraza, Sandra Grimalva, Juan Natividad, Kevin Hardts and Rey Menendez. (7) Ellen Carr and Mary Weddle did academics and Marguerite Foix and Laura Wooley did clubs.

We pulled through

The El Chato staff had only two members with any experience putting out a yearbook. The rest of us have had to learn to sell ads and design layouts. We worked after school and weekends, bringing new ideas, lots of hope, and effort to complete and deliver the yearbook by May. We all grew closer, working together and supporting each other with our work. This 1982 El Chato holds a part of each member of staff. We hope you will appreciate it as much as we do.
